

Bio of Chris Cohn

Chris Cohn is the Director of Early Childhood at the Albany Jewish Community Center. Chris stepped into the director's role in June of 2021. Chris studied at the College of St. Rose for her Bachelor of Education and her Master of Special Education.

Chris began working at the Albany JCC in 1994. She taught Kindergarten for more than 25 years. She has also been the gym teacher and the curriculum specialist.

Chris lives in Stuyvesant, NY with her husband, Dan, cat and two turtles. Chris and Dan have two grown sons. Josh lives in Jacksonville, FL. Ben lives in Boston, MA. Both boys attended the JCC Early Childhood Center.

Chris has a passion for learning and caring for others. She often volunteers in her community. Chris gets great enjoyment from watching the children at the JCC Early Childhood Center grow and develop and from the relationships she has built in her time at the JCC.